

Sarah Todd Hammer

Keynote Speaker

ABOUT

Sarah Todd Hammer is an influencer, speaker, and consultant who speaks about accessible design considerations and how to advocate for oneself. When Sarah Todd was eight years old, she acquired a spinal cord injury due to Acute Flaccid Myelitis (AFM). As a college student, she navigated complex processes to get her disability accommodations met, which instilled in her the importance of accessible design and self-advocacy.

Sarah Todd opens doors to inclusion by leaving audiences with clear, direct communication strategies and a renewed lens with which to view the world around us.

TESTIMONIAL

“Sarah Todd Hammer’s powerful storytelling and deep advocacy expertise left a lasting impact on our EnABLE ERG. Her ability to educate with empathy and elevate awareness around disability and identity was both enlightening and inspiring—an unforgettable experience.”

-Anna Schmid, Labcorp

TOPICS

Tailored to your group

- Accessing Accessibility: How to Self-Advocate as a Disabled Individual
- Disabled Pride: Embracing Disability Identity
- Inclusive Influence: Social Media Accessibility Best Practices

BOOKING

Book Sarah Todd Here

Email: sarahtodd@kannco.com

PREVIOUS ENGAGEMENTS

